American Chaos After the Chinese Virus

When news of the pandemic began to leak from China, other countries were dealing with the story out of sarcasm and gloating, to the extent that some people thought that this disease is specific to the people of China, and it never affects others. Moreover, some of them even called it the "Chinese" virus to indicate that.

Governments neglected the possibility of a catastrophe within their countries after a few months, and showed indifference to it, which cost them a lot of blame later on. Those kafir governments forgot the fact that the conditions of the disease to be spread are available to them as they were available in the place where it first appeared. They also lack, as the government of China lacked, effective means to prevent infection, and the effective medications to treat it.

Today, news of the demonstrations in America overshadows the news of the pandemic that has dominated all other events of the world for months. The kafir governments repeat their old mistake in dealing with the matter, by taking it up to gloating over the taghut Trump and his country, treating it with mockery, and spending time analyzing the causes of these violent events, and to advise the Americans. As if this important event at this highly sensitive time in history would be a purely American affair, which is not related to the rest of the kafir governments in the world.

Whoever looks at the state of the world today, after the pandemic crisis that stopped the engines of the economy, disrupted and exhausted governments, and spread unemployment and poverty in societies, finds that the prevailing status is chaotic. No one, except Allah, knows what the conditions of the world will be tomorrow, and no one dares to predict the form of political and economic systems that will govern the land during the coming years, nor is anyone of the people able to anticipate what it will be like in the coming period.

This chaotic situation brought most of humanity into a state of loss, except for those guided by Allah to the straight path. Almost no part of the world is spared from this state, and therefore, no place will be spared of its consequences.

The state of the global wandering that we are witnessing today has many manifestations, among which are the failure of the kafir governments and their inability to make critical decisions in any direction, the lack of confidence in most of them by the people, and the inability of any of them to present a successful model that satisfies them and achieves security and confidence in the future of their lives, which is the only thing they care about.

Likewise, economic growth has declined in most countries, corporate bankruptcy and layoffs spread, and the consequences followed to include the escalation of poverty, unemployment, crime and turmoil, without any hope a soon end to this nightmare, which dominated their lives.

This matter makes the desperate youth in those areas hold the existing governments accountable for what has befallen them. They will become more convinced of the need to intervene to make a difference, and they often do not realize the direction they are supposed to take. The idea in the minds of many of them today is the need to blow up the existing reality and then think about building an alternative to it, and the trend is towards demolishing the structure and not changing its shape or functions.

The explosion of situation in America, even if it was caused directly by the intra-fighting between the kuffar, and the aggression of one another, which is a constant matter in it since its founding, and violent protests and unrest because of this eruption every few years, it is today associated with the negative effects of the pandemic on the country's heavily indebted economy, exhausted by successive crises, which gives this latest explosion great momentum and significant consequences for the stability of the situation there.

Most of the countries hit by the pandemic in the east and west of the earth have been afflicted by what hit America, weakness and disruption of life, which makes its resistance to social, economic and political diseases, that have long been eating away its structure, very weak. Likewise, the effectiveness of the treatments that have been used many times in settling unrest and calming protests are few.

Therefore, the whole world is exposed, by Allah's permission, to this American style of chaos and turmoil. Its effects will vary in different countries, according to the strength of diseases that inhabit it, and the ability of its political, security, and economic systems to resist the waves of protests and overcome them without a complete collapse in them. Perhaps what we see in America will be easy compared with what might befall others, due to the strength of the American internal system and its long experience in dealing with unrest of this type during a century.

The more the systems of the kafir states delay in taking off again their economies and societies that have been living in a state of quasi-death for months, the greater the chances of provoking their diseases, and the less their ability to prevent them from killing them, as well as the possibility of treating and recovering from them, which will be by Allah's permission.

And this whole matter will be an additional exhaustion factor for the kafir states, that reduces their interest in what is happening in Muslim countries, and weakens their ability to fight them and help the tawaghit and the murtaddin. That matter, if Allah facilitates it, will be another victory from Him the Almighty to His oppressed servants. It will help them to strengthen themselves, destroy their enemies, and achieve the goals of their jihad, even after a while, and all praise is due to Allah, the Lord of all creation.
